

Thank You

All of us in the Eichelberger family would like to thank everyone for their support, kindness, humour and effort in memory of Max Eichelberger.

These have been unexpected and difficult times for us but, with the help of old and new friends, we are properly celebrating Max's legacy by living well for each other, and for others.

Please continue to donate your time and resources to worthy causes like cancer research, community development, Canadian agriculture and the advancement of science.

Max Eichelberger believed in these causes, not just because they interested him, but because they help everyone. To him, that was leadership; serving those who serve everyone.

There is no better way to honour Max than by leading.

Thank you from the Eichelberger family.
